1. Doctoral Council election

The Doctoral Council consists of twenty-two members and twenty-two deputies, all of whom are appointed for a two-year period. The election is carried out in accordance with the current Electoral Regulations of Freie Universität Berlin (FU-WahlO). Efforts should be made to ensure that the term of office for the members and deputies of the Doctoral Council elected in the first election on May 15, 2024, coincide with those of the Academic Senate.

The election is a majority vote, i.e., the candidates who receive the most votes shall be appointed. In case of a tie, the chair of the Central Election Board shall draw lots to determine the winning candidate.

2. Right to vote and right to stand as a candidate

All doctoral researchers at Freie Universität Berlin have the right to vote and the right to stand as a candidate in the Doctoral Council election, provided (1.) they have received an official invitation to begin their doctoral studies by the relevant doctoral board of their department, and (2.) they are a member of Freie Universität (whether through employment or on the basis of their current enrollment) on the day of the deadline for nominating candidates (April 5, 2024) and on the day of the election itself (May 15, 2024).

Doctoral researchers are only eligible to vote and may only stand as a candidate within the university department to which they have been admitted in accordance with Section 25.2 of the Berlin Higher Education Act (BerlHG).

University members who are on leave remain eligible to vote until the end of the semester after which their period of leave has been approved. In the case of a prolonged leave of absence, the right to vote shall be suspended until the end of the leave.
